For Privately-Funded International Students Living Overseas

(For students living overseas who are currently enrolled in an educational institution outside Japan and studying in a Korean-based education system.)

An overview of the Special Entrance Examination for Privately-Funded International Students Living Overseas

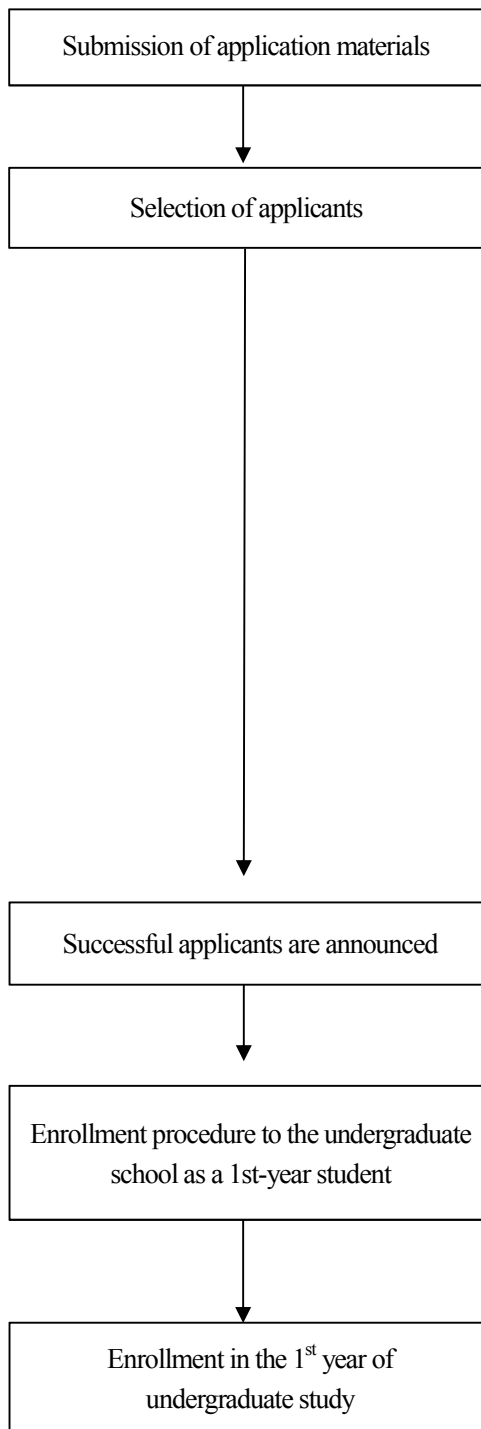

The mission of Osaka University is to nurture outstanding individuals who possess a high sense of ethics, to become global citizens and leaders in a variety of fields worldwide under the objective of “Live Locally, Grow Globally”. To accomplish this mission, it is critical to create an internationally-minded campus where Japanese students and international students challenge and enrich each other. For this purpose, Osaka University is committed to inviting outstanding international students to join its schools as well as sending Japanese students overseas, and to expanding courses taught by foreign faculty members and offered in English. As such, the future of Osaka University relies upon motivated students coming from all over the world to spread the knowledge and abilities they acquire here.

Standing by this principle, Osaka University has established a new Entrance Examination Program in order to accept international students for four-year studies, thereby increasing the number of undergraduate international students who can converse in Japanese, study together and share a variety of perspectives with Japanese students. Under this entrance examination program, applicants can take the entrance examination in their own country prior to coming to Japan. Those who passed the examination will then come to Japan and begin their studies at Osaka University. Applicants with outstanding academic performance and overall excellence who participate in this program may be eligible for tuition fee exemption or scholarship programs. They will also be given priority to reside in on-campus dormitories for the first year of their studies. Tuition fee exemption or scholarships may continue for the second year, as well as for subsequent years for those students who show outstanding academic performance and overall excellence.

Osaka University welcomes a diversity of prospective students who have acquired outstanding academic abilities, who are interested in learning Japanese while directly interacting with peers and faculty from other cultures, who think for themselves and do not just mechanically absorb information, and who actively strive to discover and share the truth.
