

Measures for dealing with A(H1N1) influenza & 2010 Second Stage Osaka University Entrance Examination

Regarding the 2010 Osaka University general examination, the second stage entrance examination given by each university, in keeping with the policy of the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology [MEXT] for the A(H1N1) influenza, the Oct. 8, 2009 notice from the senior Vice Minister of MEXT, and the notice of the Japan Association of National Universities dated Oct. 28, 2009 regarding exceptions to be made for the 2010 general examinations, Osaka University will make the following exceptions for this year only:

1. The first period examination and the second period examination will proceed as originally scheduled. That is to say:
1st period -- Thursday, February 25 and Friday, February 26
2nd period -- Friday, March 12, Saturday, March 13, and Sunday, March 14
2. Regarding the schedule for the supplementary examination, testing will proceed after a delay of one week as follows unless the situation warrants a change:
1st period -- Wednesday, March 3
2nd period -- Thursday, March 18
3. Persons taking the supplementary examination
Measures will be taken to deal with persons who cannot take the test due to A(H1N1) illness or possible infection.
4. Informing examinees
Information regarding specific measures and information on the A(H1N1) influenza will be posted on the Osaka University web pages and in documents prior to the examination dates.

Note: Any additional measures that may be undertaken are still under consideration and will be announced if and when necessary on the university's home pages.

Entrance Examination Division
Department of Student Affairs
Tel. 06-6879-7079