

International Symposium "The Possibility of Mind and Body as INTEGRATED WISDOM to Survive in the AI Era"

Date and Time: Dec. 16 (Thu), 2021, 17:00–20:40 (JST)

Format: Online (Japanese/English simultaneous translation via app "interprefy")

Organizer: RIKEN Center for Advanced Intelligence Project Artificial Intelligence Ethics and Society Team

Co-Organizers: Department of Neuropsychiatry, Faculty of Medicine, Kyoto University; General Research Division, Osaka University Research Center on Ethical, Legal and Social Issues

Program:

17:00–17:10 Opening Remarks

Prof. Dr. Masaki Fukuda

RIKEN AIP Senior Visiting Scientist; Professor and Director of the General Research Division, Osaka University Research Center on Ethical, Legal and Social Issues; Concurrent Professor, Osaka University Graduate School of Law and Politics; Visiting Professor, the University of Tokyo Interfaculty Initiative in Information Studies

17:10–17:45 Keynote Speech 1: “Human enhancement in an Internet-focused society: addictions, enhancement drugs and ‘the desire to appear’ should be perfect for us”

Prof. Dr. Ornella Corazza

Professor of Addiction Science, Program Director for the Doctorate in Medicine (MD), Department of Clinical, Pharmaceutical and Biological Sciences, University of Hertfordshire (UK); President of the International Society for the Study of Emerging Drugs (ISSED); Visiting Professor, University of Trento (Italy); Visiting Professor, Sapienza University of Rome (Italy)

17:45–18:20 Keynote Speech 2: “Lifestyle habits and brain health for upcoming AI society - Based on the concept of addictive behaviors and mind-body integration”

Dr. Hironobu Fujiwara

Visiting Researcher, RIKEN Center for Advanced Intelligence Project, Artificial Intelligence Ethics and Society Team; Lecturer, Department of Neuropsychiatry, Faculty of Medicine, Kyoto University; Visiting Academic Staff of the General Research Division, Osaka University Research Center on Ethical, Legal and Social Issues

18:20–18:35 Coffee break

18:35–19:05 Report 1: “Psychological Causation” in AI Society: Could AI Decisions Be the Cause of Human Actions?”

Mr. Nobuaki Yamamoto

Specially Appointed Assistant Professor of the General Research Division, Osaka University Research Center on Ethical, Legal and Social Issues

19:05–19:35 Report 2: “Lesson of “Mind” in Transmission of Body Techniques: With Reference to the analysis based on the theory of communication”

Mr. Yuki Hori

Research part timer, RIKEN AIP Center

19:35–20:25 Panel Discussion

(Chairs)

Prof. Dr. Shoko Suzuki

RIKEN AIP Center Team Leader; Professor, Kyoto University

Prof. Dr. Masaki Fukuda

RIKEN AIP Senior Visiting Scientist; Professor and Director of the General Research Division, Osaka University Research Center on Ethical, Legal and Social Issues; Concurrent Professor, Osaka University Graduate School of Law and Politics; Visiting Professor, the University of Tokyo Interfaculty Initiative in Information Studies

20:25–20:40 Closing Remarks

Prof. Dr. Shoko Suzuki

RIKEN AIP Center Team Leader; Professor, Kyoto University

Registration:

<<https://c5dc59ed978213830355fc8978.doorkeeper.jp/events/129255/>>

 Registration closes 14 Dec 23:55.

Contact:

<<https://c5dc59ed978213830355fc8978.doorkeeper.jp/contact/>>

Information:

<https://aip.riken.jp/events/event_129255/?lang=en/>