

Facing Societal Challenges

Making Life Better through Research

Osaka University has always placed importance on the Value of Life. This motif is a Ginkgo leaf, the symbol of Osaka University.

Coordinating links with global initiatives such as SDGs to contribute to society for the next century and beyond

Protecting Life

Protecting lives against complex problems and acute threats to prevent unnecessary adversity.

Nurturing Life

Supporting a sustainable society and natural environment where all lives are valued and individuals are encouraged to develop their skills and potential.

Connecting life

Growing linkages between mankind and ecosystems to protect and nurture life for future generations.

Focusing on the value of Life

This principle is embedded in Osaka University's heritage and will remain so into the future.
