

Theory and Practice of ESG Integration

Promoting Human Rights in a Turbulent World

Keynote Speaker : Ms. Nada Al-Nashif
UN Deputy High Commissioner for Human Rights

Date : Friday, May 9, 2025,

Time : 15:10~16:40

Venue : Room 2, 1F, The Lecture Building for Law & Economics, Toyonaka

Eligibility : Students, faculty, staff, and affiliates of UOsaka

Language : English

Registration required

Register here ↓

We are honored to welcome Ms. Nada Al-Nashif, United Nations Deputy High Commissioner for Human Rights, as our keynote speaker for this special lecture. This lecture aims to explore the challenges of promoting and protecting human rights, not only at the national level but also through the responsibilities of the corporate sector. With a global perspective, this lecture offers a chance to learn about key human rights issues and reflect on how we can contribute to a fairer, more inclusive world.

For inquiries, please contact: info.esg-irec@osipp.osaka-u.ac.jp

Hosted by: Osaka School of International Public Policy, ESG Integration Research and Education Center(ESG-IREC)
Co-hosted by : Osaka School of International Public Policy, Kokuren Seisaku Kenkyu Inkai